SNAP E&T Referral Project

Ashley Snyder – SNAP E&T, DHS - Art Larsen – Job Service Field Director

2/29/2024

SNAP background and history

- This is not the first time SNAP time limits returned from a waiver
- In 2009, the SNAP time limits were waived due to the economic crisis
- When the time limits returned in 2013 due to an improved economy, 45,000 SNAP recipients lost their benefits
- July 2023 about 27,000 SNAP recipients coded as TLRs and were at risk of losing their benefits

Who has to follow time-limited work rules?

- Baseline criteria for having to follow SNAP time-limited work rules:
  - Ages 18 – 49 (this is now age 52 per federal law)
  - Not physically or mentally disabled AND
  - Not living with a dependent under the age of 18
- Combined Manual 11.24
